

Nike of Samothrace _ Frame Project

work in progress – stainless steel mirror finished by hands - Daniele Basso 200x235cm, h260cm // 105x150cm, h190cm // 118x101cm, h130cm // 78x55cm, h100cm

Caryatids, Nike and Venus are reborn ... The old myths find new energy!

The course and appeal of history materializes. Continuous destruction and reconstruction produce similar but not equal results. Small differences are where we stay. The opening to have our say. To be protagonists of our time. Architects of our little piece of the world. Creators of our myths and our values.

"The Nike sculptures of Samothrace of the Frame Project represent victory as an ephemeral value.

What if victory is simply living? In danger, priorities are mixed like points of view. In diversity and variety, we can find our space in harmony with others and with the environment".

Daniele Basso Artista
Biella, Via Salita di Riva n° 3

www.danielebasso.it